Seaside, Ore. (Apr. 12, 2013) – On Friday, Apr. 19, Dutch Bros. Coffee is giving away free drinks all day, from 5 a.m. to 10 p.m., at its new Seaside location at 2297 N. Roosevelt Ave.

All 16-oz. drinks will be free, including specialty coffee, smoothies, freezes and our private-label, flavor-infused energy drink.

“We love what we do,” says local owner-operator Jared Nunnemaker. It’s not just a job, just going to work, just making coffee. There’s so much more to it. We love our coffee and our customers. That’s what we’re all about.”

Dutch Bros. Seaside is locally owned and operated by Jared, his wife Deana and his brother Jason. They also own the Astoria Dutch Bros. that opened last August.

The Nunnemakers give to various local causes and nonprofit organizations, including Clatsop Community Action, Columbia Memorial Hospital, the Assistance League of the Columbia Pacific, American Cancer Society Relay for Life, Court Appointed Special Advocates for Children, the Muscular Dystrophy Association and local schools.

It is that giving spirit, positivity and quality coffee handcrafted in the Northwest that have made Dutch Bros. Coffee such a success.
